| Citadel Stone’s Ocean Reef Shellstone Polished brings the most architecturally distinctive natural stone in our catalogue into a finish optimized for luxury interior specification. The polished surface is the result of multi-stage progressive abrasion followed by fine buffing — a process that opens the stone’s crystalline structure to produce a luminous high-gloss surface, intensifies the warm pale cream tone, amplifies both natural and artificial light across the installation, and brings the vi... |  |
